

This is an Adirondack. It sleeps six on three bunk beds. The bunks may be wooden or metal. There is no front closing because, they claim, of fire regulations.

This is what they called a Baily Tent...I think that's what they called it. It sleeps four on metal cots. I only saw them at one camp site and I believe it was too small for the numbers we are bringing.